Roosevelt's Message Launches New Silver Bill

PRESIDENT SEEKS BROADENED USAGE FOR WHITE METAL

Program Calls for Gradual Acquisition of Metal by U. S. Until It Forms 25 Per Cent of Monetary Stocks.

THOMAS AND BORAH ARE NOT SATISFIED

Bulk of Bloc, However, Seem Pleased; Measure Is Expected To Be Pushed Through Quickly.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—(AP)—A bill to authorize a silver purchase program that would form the base for the issuance of more money backed by silver trailed a presidential message into the senate today with good prospects for early passage.

The measure contains inflationary powers which some senators said might mean the issuance of more than two billion dollars in new currency. Treasury estimates put the figure much lower, however.

Dissatisfaction with the bill was expressed almost immediately by senators Thomas, democrat, Oklahoma, and Borah, republican, Idaho. Thomas complained that the proposal did not change the "status" of the metal.

But the majority of the senate silver bloc seemed satisfied and went ahead with plans to get the measure through at this session.

President Roosevelt in his message to congress said this country had sounded out other nations on the possibility of a monetary agreement affecting both gold and silver. He also reviewed briefly the reasons for his request.

"I therefore," he said, "recommend legislation at the present session declaring it to be the policy of the United States to increase the amount of silver in our monetary stocks with the ultimate objective of having and maintaining one-fourth of their monetary value in silver and three-fourths in gold."

These are the principal provisions of the bill introduced by Senator Pitt-

"Harmless" Gift Snake Is Deadly, Girl Killed

COLUMBIA, S. C., May 22.—(AP)—Seven-year-old Annie Kyzer wasn't afraid of snakes.

A friend of her parents found a 14-inch "thunder snake," thought to be harmless, while ploughing and took it to the child in his pocket.

Instead of recoiling in fear, Annie played with the snake. It bit her. She ran into the house, but didn't tell her mother.

Hours later she became ill. A physician was called. It was too late.

"Snake bite" was set down in the death certificate as the official cause of death.

Herpetologists here advanced the theory the reptile was a deadly coral snake.

DEBT ABOUT-FACE BY GREAT BRITAIN STRONGLY HINTED

London Believed Preparing To Approach Washington With New Proposal for Settlement.

LONDON, May 22.—(AP)—A complete about-face by Great Britain on the war debts question was hinted strongly in informed circles today, with the possibility that the government may approach Washington for a discussion of the subject.

Heretofore, the official attitude has been that the United States must take the initiative in any reopening of the debt question.

While there were indications that the London government may submit a plan to Washington, no steps are expected for several days, as several cabinet members are out of town for extended Whitsun holidays.

Sir Donald Lindsay, ambassador to Washington, has reported his conversations with President Roosevelt, and while the nature of the discussion was closely guarded, the report was received that he had offered a payment of 5,000,000 pounds on the June 15 installment.

The attitude of the British government to the June 15 war debt installment to the United States has been the subject of much speculation. The British heretofore have saved themselves from defaulting on the debt by paying small sums as tokens of good faith.

"PLEASE REMIT" NOTES ARE HELD UP BY U. S. WASHINGTON, May 22.—(AP)—The "please remit" notes, always sent by the United States to debtor nations 30 days before installments on war debts fall due, have not yet been dispatched to the 13 nations that have installments of $175,000,000 payable on June 15.

No explanation was given at the state department for the fact that the usual formal notifications are now seven days overdue except that no official debt listing had been received from the treasury department.

Delay in sending the notes was said in well-informed circles, however, to have been deliberate to await disclosure of President Roosevelt's attitude on the question in his war debts message to congress this week.

1 KILLED, 45 HURT BY STRIKE RIOTERS AT MINNEAPOLIS

5,000 Battle Policemen Before Word of Temporary Truce Is Declared. Another Bombing in Ala.

By the Associated Press.

Striking truck drivers and their sympathizers engaged in a bloody battle with police at Minneapolis' city market yesterday, bringing death to one man and swelling the two-day toll of injured there to more than 50.

C. Arthur Lyman, vice president and general manager of the American Ball Company, died of a fractured skull. A score of police were hurt.

A dynamite bomb was thrown from a speeding car at the Empire mine of the DeBardeleben Coal Corporation in Walker county, Alabama. Although it fell short of its mark, the detonation shook every house in the camp and shattered scores of windows.

A five-ton truck loaded with coffee was sent hurtling off a roadway by striking longshoremen on the New Orleans river front after the driver had retreated under a shower of bricks.

A number of Pacific coast ports were under virtual blockades as the result of the refusal of teamsters to move freight where dock workers are on strike. At San Francisco four replacement workers were severely beaten.

Preparations for a strike are being made by members of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers, Clarence Irwin, steel union leader from Youngstown, Ohio, said at Pittsburgh.

I KILLED, 45 PERSONS HURT IN RIOTING AT MINNEAPOLIS MINNEAPOLIS, May 22.—(AP)—Death of a businessman blotted the week-long truck drivers' strike today when 5,000 persons rioted in the city market place where screaming ambulances, amid jeers of the throng, rushed at least 45 persons, some seriously injured, to hospitals.

Pandemonium raged for a time and blood stained the market area at noon before word that a truce had been declared, shouted by Walter Frank, official of the Central Labor Union, snuffed out the anger of the crowd, fanned to flame at the sight of special policemen with riot guns.

FERA Traffic Survey Starts; 135 Men Will Be Given Work

DeFord Smith (left), who Tuesday was announced as director of the Atlanta traffic survey, is shown here conferring with Chief of Police T. O. Sturdivant concerning traffic accident records. The FERA traffic survey will expend $37,000 in Atlanta and will employ 135 "white collar" workers for four months. Its purpose is to aid in co-ordinating the traffic code of the United States. Staff photo.

The $37,000 FERA traffic survey of any city in the southeast, a complete success and would help to have its recommendations for better traffic control carried out to the fullest extent in Atlanta.

The governor said he hoped that the survey here would be the beginning of surveys in every city of more than 25,000 population in the state.

Several other Georgia towns already have applied for the FERA funds necessary to carry on surveys.

Director Smith said a large portion, or all, of the 135 workers who will make the survey would be ready for active work Monday.

IT'S UP TO THE WOMEN

By Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt

What does the First Lady of the land think about marriage, divorce, children, careers for women, family income, health, the household? The Constitution presents herewith the third of a series of articles, giving her opinion in a chatty, confiding tone as if she talked with you across the tea table. Every word has been written by Mrs. Roosevelt herself. There has been no collaboration.

III—WHEN YOUR CHILDREN MARRY.

Inextricably tied up with the question of home conditions is the question of the right of women to have individual lives of their own and also the question of what the woman shall do whether she holds a job or not when her children grow up and marry.

If she has held a job she will have something to turn to which will fill her life and make the transition far easier for her, for undoubtedly the relationship must change when the children marry.

If a woman has been a very possessive mother it will be extremely difficult to turn over the possession of either her son or her daughter to some other person. The possessive type of mother love is the one great danger which threatens the relationship between mothers and the young married people.

Perhaps in the old days there was still so much to do in the home that women had little or no time to interfere in the new households as it started out, or perhaps these new households pushed further in new country and transportation being so difficult, months and years went by without any visits between the old and the new homes. Holding a job may be a substitute for being unable to be with our children too much after they have started out for themselves. In any case this period in a woman's life is perhaps the greatest test of her character.

Up to this time, in all probability, she has felt herself entitled to claim much of her children's time and attention and she has taken the lead in their lives. If they were ill, they naturally came to her, and there is nothing in the world as gratifying as feeling that those whom you love not only love you, but need you and expect you to share whatever touches their lives.

A wise mother, however, will begin very early to face the fact that she cannot possess and control every moment of her children's lives.

HOUSE APPROVAL NEAR FOR LOANS TO AID INDUSTRY

Only Scattering Opposition Develops for Bill To Extend $440,000,000 To Assist Businesses.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—(AP)—Facing only scattered opposition, the administration's $440,000,000 loans to industry bill was swept through a bluster of debate and a maze of amendments in the house today toward certain final passage.

Amendments tended to delay action, but leaders were confident that when the vote came it would speed the measure back to the senate for composition of differences between house and senate bills.

Passage by the house was made certain when a special resolution was virtually unanimously adopted making the bill pending business. Not only until nearly half of the three hours of debate had been exhausted did anyone speak against it. Then Representative McGugin, republican, Kansas, termed it "socialized banking" and "a fraud and deception on the American people."

Of the sections allowing RFC loans to farmer-cooperative mineral rights pools not engaged in drilling and mining operations and permitting additional loans to corporations engaged in mining, smelting or milling ores, he said:

"That is socialized banking. It is discrimination of the worst type which limits loans to farmers, co-operatives and corporations, denying the individual citizen the right to borrow."

Chairman Steagall, democrat, Alabama, of the banking committee, urged passage of the bill and called it the "answer to a nationwide demand for loans to farmers, co-operatives, commercial banks and which commercial banks cannot adequately supply."

He asserted there was no conflict between the RFC and federal reserve plans because the former was temporary and the latter permanent.

Furthermore, he said, "the federal reserve banks will be the primary source to which will be addressed the requests for loans, and if they can't be obtained there, then the RFC is the last resort."

Irate Louisianans Bar Share-the-Wealth Talk

NEW ORLEANS, May 22.—(AP)—Sheriff Fred Wilcox, of West Feliciana parish, said over long distance telephone today that a group of angry citizens had refused to permit Gerald K. Smith to hold a public meeting last night at St. Francisville to promote Senator Huey P. Long's "share-the-wealth" campaign.

"The people just naturally didn't want to hear this Smith fellow speak," he said. "So I refused him the use of the courthouse to speak, and a lot of the folks escorted Smith to the parish line, pointed him at Baton Rouge and turned him loose."

"Did he make any attempt to come back?" the sheriff was asked. "He didn't and he'd better not," said the sheriff.

'NEW DEAL' FAILED 2 CENTURIES AGO, SAYS FARM EDITOR

Gus Dyer Tells Industrialists Here That "Mercantilism" Was Done Away With in 1776.

The New Deal is a "reactionary movement" and was tried and found to be a "miserable failure" more than 200 years ago, Gus W. Dyer, of Nashville, editor of the Southern Agriculturist, said here Tuesday night.

Speaking before the Southern States Industrial Council, an organization composed of manufacturers, Dyer said the constitution forbade the government from exercising any control in the field of competitive private business. He added that the constitution protects private property against government invasion as well as prohibiting the impairment of contracts.

"The New Deal is decidedly a reactionary movement," Dyer said. "It goes back over 200 years and takes up a theory that was given a fair trial and was found to be a miserable failure, and introduces it as a New Deal."

"It is a very old and disreputable deal under a new name. It is the resurrection of mercantilism that was demolished by Adam Smith and Thomas Jefferson in 1776."

"Anderson Hills 'Interference.'"

"An effort is being made to pull us all through the same knot hole and it can't be done," W. D. Anderson, of Macon, president of the Bibb Manufacturing Company, told the group.

The manufacturer said that he favored high wages and was against the reduction of the wage scale in cotton industry.

Declaring that print cloth could be made in Fall River, Mass., cheaper than in his own mill in Georgia, Anderson said that by reason of governmental interference, a Fall River mill can own a bale of cotton in Memphis cheaper than it can be owned by the cotton mill.

"Today we are facing regimentation of business, industry and agriculture," he said.

U. S. C. OF C. CHIEF WARNS OF PERILS IN RECOVERY ACT

Dakota Senator Urges Further Inquiry Into Codes and Is Joined in Demand by Representative Britten.

LONGER LIFE ASKED FOR DARROW BOARD

Harriman Admits NIRA Has Done Much Good, But Fears Autocracy in Its Continuance.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—(AP)—A renewed declaration that NRA was entrenching monopolies and trusts was coupled today with a demand for a thorough going inquiry into the recovery agency.

Senator Nye, republican, North Dakota, who proposed the original inquiry by the Darrow review board, said the government was fostering monopolies. Representative Britten, republican, Illinois, sought the investigation.

Meanwhile, there came from the president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, Henry I. Harriman, a statement that businessmen felt the industrial recovery act had done much good but that there also was a "widespread fear that an act, based on the self-regulation of business with government approval of such regulations, might become an autocratic act for the regimentation of business by the government."

The Britten resolution called for a special committee of five house members to investigate "every phase of the basis of the report (the Darrow report) just made public which exposes a condition that is in complete and utter violation of the president and his policies."

Should the investigation substantiate the findings of the board, the resolution called for the investigating committee "recommend to the house proper legislation for the immediate abolishment of the national recovery act and its successor."

Pending the completion of the congressional inquiry, Britten would have the review board maintained "as an advisory body to the national recovery administration." Hugh S. Johnson, recovery administrator, proposed to President Roosevelt the review board be abolished, while Nye, and others of Johnson's staff leveled at him the criticism that Johnson, Donald A. Richberg, chief NRA counsel, and others of Johnson's staff leveled at him.

"Shameful Attack."

Nye in his speech to the senate said the criticism that Johnson, Donald A. Richberg, chief NRA counsel, and others of Johnson's staff leveled at him.

Alert Autoist Fails Three 'Ride' Bandits

Three would-be bandits were thwarted early Tuesday night when the driver of a car they had commandeered at the point of a pistol was suddenly alerted by the bright lights of a patrolman on Error road, according to M. M. McCurdy, of 419 Arnold street, N. E., who said he was the driver.

Arnold told police that while he waited for a green traffic signal at Glenn street and Murphy avenue, he saw three men enter a car and a "lift" to town. After they got in the car one lifted a pistol at McCurdy and ordered him to drive to Lakewood Park.

McCurdy, who was driving a Buick, turned his car into the driveway of the drink stand and the bandits agreed to leave if he "would shake hands with them and not call the police."

They left hurriedly and McCurdy drove to the nearest telephone and reported the incident.

Three Robbers Suspects Jailed at Tucson

TUCSON, Ariz., May 22.—(UP)—Three men, said to be Texas bank robbers, wanted for questioning in the kidnap of June Robles, 6, were arrested tonight by Sheriff John Belton and Under Sheriff Jake Farrar.

The three were heavily armed when arrested. They were taken to the Pima county jail, which at one time held the John Dillinger gang. Names of the men were withheld by authorities who started questioning them.

The first man was brought in shortly after 9 p. m., and placed under the guard of two deputies, Belton and Farrar, with Deputy Franko, returned later with the other two.

World Pays Tribute to "Savannah" On 115th Anniversary of Sailing

SAVANNAH, Ga., May 22.—(AP)—The doom of the old-time sailing vessel was written 115 years ago today when the world's first ocean-going steamship puffed out of this port.

Today Savannah led some 50 celebrated ships of Maritime Day along the coast of the United States.

Bewhiskered gentlemen in high hats and higher collars and lovely ladies in frills and flounces laughed when the steamer Savannah pulled away from the docks on May 22, 1819, but not one had engaged passage in the funny craft on its voyage to Liverpool.

Some of the more venturesome had taken trips up the river in the boat, but hadn't eminent scientists "proven" it would never reach England?

About three weeks later sailing masters off the English coast saw what appeared to be a vessel afar and rushing to its aid were dumbfounded to see their first steamship, its lone funnel belching forth waves of heavy smoke from the pitch pine burned in its boilers.

The Savannah sailed into Liverpool 25 days after leaving the coast of Georgia, and its strange steam engines had propelled it two-thirds of the way across the Atlantic, the sails only being used in fine breezes.

It caused a sensation in England and in Copenhagen and St. Petersburg before returning to Georgia.

The Savannah was built in New

YOUTH MURDERS NAVAL OFFICER

Mississippian Confesses Slaying Commander During Drunken Ride.

MARIETTA, Okla., May 22.—(AP)—Sheriff S. H. Randolph, of Love county, announced today that Leo Hudgins, of Leesburg, Miss., had confessed slaying S. J. Trowbridge, missing a "drunken orgy" while driving across Kansas.

The sheriff said Hudgins, 27 years old, had made a verbal confession and stated the slaying occurred Sunday.

"We have a map now and are trying to make him find the place where he killed him," Randolph said.

Hudgins and Mickey Kammerman, 21, of Brooklyn, N. Y., were arrested together at Thackerville Sunday. They were found in possession of a motor car which officers said bore blood stains.

County officers were informed Commander Trowbridge left the San Diego Naval hospital May 16 for Haywood,

Havana Editor Shot While Riding in Car

HAVANA, May 22.—(AP)—Pepin Rivero, editor of the newspaper Diario de la Marina, was shot tonight and seriously wounded.

Rivero was attacked while he rode through the streets in his automobile. He was rushed to a hospital where physicians, after hasty examination, said he will recover.

Wis., and that nothing has been heard of him since.

The finding of a suitcase containing a uniform bearing the commandeer's name in a culvert near Cherokee, yesterday stirred fears the officer had been slain and robbed.

The sheriff quoted Hudgins as saying the commander was beaten with a hammer on a road 15 miles north of Greensburg, Kas., and his body thrown into a ditch.

Hudgins said he and Kammerman, had been riding "several hours" with Trowbridge, "drinking beer all the time."

Greensburg is about 60 miles north of the Oklahoma-Kansas line.

The sheriff related that Hudgins said Trowbridge picked him up on the road.

The alleged confession appeared to veer off its first trend, as Hudgins later was quoted as saying he and the officer got into an argument "over hitting bumps in the road too hard."

The officer was driving.

"I told him if he didn't quit hitting the bumps so hard, I'd hit him with a hammer," the suspect was quoted as saying. The blow was struck after the next bump was hit, according to the youth's alleged statement.

Industrialists View 'New Deal' at Meeting Here

"The Macon manufacturer continued," he told the industrialists they must devote a certain amount of their time each day to politics.

Resolutions Warn NRA.

The industrial council passed resolutions Tuesday stating that unless the federal government respected the principle of wage differential it would "bring pressure to bear on the industries wrongfully and adversely affected toward wage reductions and successful resistance to the code program."

Resolutions adopted said neither the president nor congress had the legal authority to relocate industry by abolition of differentials which had existed prior to the depression. The council added that codes contrary to a differential must be revised.

Addition of Virginia and Kentucky to the southern group in wage differentials involving the north and south also was urged by the council's resolutions, which said that the "present discrimination" in Kentucky and Virginia was resulting in injury to business and to the NRA.

Differential Main Theme.

The problem of securing wage differentials in order to aid the south was the main theme of the one-day conference of the council, and John E. Edgerton, of Lebanon, Tenn., its president, said that factors of individual productivity as determined by climate, racial differences, opportunities for training and of different degrees of mechanization in manufacturing processes were "almost wholly disregarded" in the formulation of the codes.

He said the codes were written by the south's competitors and that their enforcement is almost entirely in the hands of the competitors.

He warned that workers from the north and east would invade this section unless the differential is recognized.

"Ignorance Assailed." "To ignorance of conditions in the south," he said, "as typified by a distinguished member of the president's cabinet, who confessedly did not know until recently that the people in this section wear shoes, may be attributed a large part of the injustices done in the codes to the south."

Some improvement has resulted in the south from the codes, Mr. Edgerton said, but he is unconvinced that the south as a whole can permanently recover and continue industrial development under any system that disregards natural law and human nature.

He said his remarks were not to be construed as meaning that either he or the council were against the lifting of living standards or wages in this or other sections.

"We are only insisting that whatever the wage rates are in different sections and communities, the spread between them, or the differential, ought to be sufficient to equalize competitive conditions."

The council, the speaker said, brought the "facts" to the attention of all the Washington authorities and a report confirming "these facts in substance" was prepared within NRA administrative circles.

"For at least two months, we have been trying to get this report acted upon by the highest authorities but for some reason or other we have not so far been able to do so."

Outsiders Would Come.

"We must cease taking it for granted that we can look to any particular political party to take care of us. Our people must be made to realize that the moment the working classes in other sections, including the foreign hordes that clog the congested industrial centers of the east and middle west, find out that they can come south and get practically the same, or nearly the same, wage rates as where they are, and that they can live more comfortably and happily on from 20 to 40 per cent less money in the south, they are coming in larger number than we can easily digest."

"You fellows who haven't raised cotton are going to have a new experience before you die," W. D. Moore, of Birmingham, told his fellow manufacturers. "You'll get behind a mule and say 'gee' and 'haw,' unless something is done to change the present course of affairs."

E. J. McMillan, of the Standard Knitting Mills, of Knoxville, reported that his concern, which makes men's and boys' underwear, could put goods in metropolitan markets in competition with other sections because of the wage differential allowed by the underwear code. He said the differential was $1 a week.

Anderson told the industrialists that 321 code authorities had been approved with a total membership of 2,785. The 13 southern states have but 20 representatives on the code authorities, and the south is not even represented on 221 code authorities, Anderson's report said.

"The only chance made of this revolution is that it is demanded by an emergency," Dyer said in his speech. "The conclusion from this reasoning is that constitutional rights may be claimed by American citizens only when the country is entirely free from emergencies. The theory of the New Deal revolution is that any emergency by those in charge of the government automatically sets aside the constitution and takes from American citizens every constitutional right. Since it is not probable that the country will ever be free from emergencies again, if the New Deal interpretation of the constitution is sound, the constitution may be laid away permanently."

"If those in charge of the government may ignore and repudiate one principle of the constitution simply by announcing an emergency, then they may repudiate any or all principles of the constitution at will. If this interpretation is accepted, we no longer have any constitution."

The progressive slogan of "human rights before property rights" was said by Dyer to be borrowed from the jungle, and he added that "the sanctity of private property is one of the greatest expressions of human rights."

He said that protection of freedom of contract had contributed more than any other principle to American industrial progress, but added that the principles has been repudiated by the New Deal.

Discipline, Efficiency Lessened. The collective bargaining clause of the NRA hits discipline and lessens efficiency, Forney Johnson, of Birmingham, Ala., told the manufacturers. He said there was no occasion for putting unionization in the recovery act, and that bitterness and a lack of harmony and understanding between employers and workers had resulted.

J. P. McGrath, of Atlanta, secretary of the Georgia Manufacturers' Association, was secretary of the committee on resolutions.

Approximately 40 Atlanta manufacturers attended the sessions of the council, including in Atlantans attending the meetings were P. S. Hutton, of the Scripps Manufacturing Company; W. E. Mitchell, of the Georgia Power Company; Simon Selig, of the Selig Company; W. S. Rushton, of the Rushton Company; E. R. Paris, of the Atlanta Casket Company; C. S. Barrett, of the Barrett Company; and T. M. Brumby, of the Brumby Chair Company. Marietta, president of the Georgia Manufacturers' Association.

Arthur Lyman, vice-president and general manager of the American Ball Company, a volunteer guard, lay dead in general hospital, victim of the surging mob that wrested control of the restricted market area from the police.

Terms of Truce. Both factions agreed to the truce agreement drafted at the governor's conference. It provided for no trucks on the streets, closing of the market district, calling all police off strike duty at 5 p. m. today and 24 hours of grace after the regional labor board hands down its decision.

Meanwhile, the regional labor advisory board ordered a settlement of the week-long strike.

After an all-day session the board presented its decision to strike leaders and to representatives of the trucking firms. Its decision, except for an over-ruling by the national labor board, becomes mandatory upon both parties.

The terms were virtually the same as those demanded by the strikers for restoration of peace and order. Strikers refused to disclose how many of their number had been injured but they set up first-aid stations at their headquarters.

Occupation of the market area, two blocks from the heart of the city, was achieved by the mob at the cost of injuries to 45 persons, 31 of them special policemen. The charge was the climax to a situation that had grown steadily worse from dawn.

Improvised weapons, clubs, hose crammed with iron bolts and shot guns, pistols and sticks studded the throng of policemen, strikers and sympathizers as the crowd grew steadily larger.

SCORE OF ALABAMA MINERS NARROWLY ESCAPE BOMBING

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., May 22.—(AP)—Only the poor aim of the persons who tossed a dynamite bomb from a speeding car at the Debardeleben Coal Corporation's Empire mine today saved a score of miners from possible death or serious injury.

News of the latest of a long series of bombings in Walker county labor troubles came as representatives of labor and employers met here to try to iron out problems which are keeping 10,000 coal and iron ore miners from work.

The Empire bomb, described by officers as one of the most powerful thrown since the labor troubles began, missed its mark, but jarred the mining village "like an earthquake."

Windows were shattered and drowsy-eyed residents of the little community awoke shaken from their beds by the early morning blast.

Special officers on duty chased the car from which the bomb was thrown to Orel Town before losing it. Walker county officers would not comment on the possibility of early arrests in the case.

Relief Station Stormed. By 300 at San Antonio. SAN ANTONIO, Texas, May 22.—(AP)—Irrked because they thought there was a delay in allotment of grocery orders, 300 persons dependent upon relief rations stormed the Harlandale relief station today and threatened to destroy it. A case worker, Mrs. Paula H. Long, was beaten by two women demonstrators and W. K. Chaney, a relief officer, was slapped, before deputy sheriffs arrived and restored order.

The woman accused Mrs. Long of delaying investigations and beat her severely before she was able to enter the station. A short time later a woman swept past the doorman and demanded a grocery order immediately of F. K. Chaney, a relief officer. He refused, and the woman slapped him several times in the face. He had asked her to return to her place in line.

"PROPER NRA ENFORCEMENT" ASKED BY VIRGINIA LABOR. ROANOKE, Va., May 22.—(AP)—The declaration of E. J. Shave, of Hampton, secretary of the Virginia Federation of Labor, that "people who make up" NRA compliance boards "is no sweetie talk" accompanied the federation's passage at its thirty-third session here this morning of a resolution asking proper enforcement of the NRA and announcing its ultimatum to employers that the federation will no longer prevent strikes.

He said that the drastic resolution "is not drastic enough" and declared that "as a member of the compliance board, I have had to file a minority report in 90 per cent of the cases."

"People who make up the boards are hostile to the president and his recovery program," he continued. "People are on them who believe that wages paid are detrimental to labor because they are too high."

To Design Settings. At the direction of President H. Council Trenholm, of Alabama State Teachers' College, Wilmer A. Jennings, senior in Morehouse College, has been commissioned to design and execute the stage settings for the production of "Macbeth," which is being given as the commencement play at the Montgomery college Friday. Jennings spent last week in Montgomery at work on the project.

Agreement Is Reached On Air Mail Measure. WASHINGTON, May 22.—(AP)—Senate and house conferees today agreed on an air mail bill which would place mail transport under the supervision of the interstate commerce commission, subject to the limitations of specified rates.

The bill, which now goes back to the house for acceptance, includes the senate amendment barring companies having officers held guilty of participating in past collusion to prevent competitive bidding.

Temporary contracts already let, and those to be awarded this month, could be extended for one year under the measure.

SHARP BATTLING OCCURS IN CHACO

Bolivia, Paraguay Concentrating Forces for Decisive Engagement.

By the Associated Press.

Sharp engagements occurred Tuesday in the Chaco war zone, where Bolivia and Paraguay are concentrating forces for what may prove the decisive battle of the conflict.

The command that will throw the two armies into combat for possession of Fort Ballivian, Bolivia's major stronghold, was expected at any moment.

Both sides were launching attacks on other sections of the front to draw their enemy's attention. Neither was able to score a material advance.

Paraguay had 40,000 men on the Bolivian sector and Bolivia had succeeded in bringing up an untried number of reinforcements for her 15,000 defending troops.

An order by the Paraguayan commander, General Jose Estigarribia, for his troops to take the offensive, was awaited as the first move in the battle.

TENSE SITUATION GRIPS WAR ZONE IN CHACO

ASUNCION, Paraguay, May 22.—(AP)—A tense situation existed in the Chaco war zone today, with indications that the zero hour for the decisive battle at Fort Ballivian was near.

Paraguayan troops launched vicious attacks against other sectors of the Bolivian line, but had not yet opened the assault on the fortress.

Supply trains continued to bring up guns and ammunition for the 40,000 men stationed in a long line before the Bolivian stronghold.

Harrassed by enemy planes, they nevertheless plugged doggedly through the jungle and succeeded in adding materially to the already huge store of equipment in the army's hands.

The fighting that raged all day in the "Canada" and "strongest" zones was intended principally to keep the Bolivians busy so they could not concentrate on reinforcing the army defending Ballivian.

Paraguayan offensives brought no material advances, but served, the Paraguayan command hoped, to seriously worry the enemy.

Whether or not this hope was achieved, the Bolivians also had time to engage in attacks. They made several sharp assaults on the Paraguayan

Large and Appreciative Audience Hears Guild Service of Organists

The Georgia Chapter of the American Guild of Organists, Charles Sheldon Jr., dean, held its annual guild service Tuesday night at Druid Hills Methodist church, with the chorus choir of 30 voices, organist and choir director, providing a musical program of dignity and beauty. A large audience, composed not only of the city's organists, but of laymen and music patrons as well, greeted the occasion with deep appreciation.

Miss Beyer selected a program of unusual interest and her trained choir gave each number a noteworthy performance. The choir possessed a fine feeling for shading, which added greatly to its interpretations, and coupled with its well blended voices, its melodious phrasing, and its clear enunciation, made its ensemble a thing of audible pleasure. Walmisley's "Magnificat in D minor" received a musical delivery with a background of religious inspiration. One of the loveliest moments of the evening was the "Presentation of the Offering," by an positions, but in each case were repulsed.

No mention of the casualties was made in reports available here.

QUICK ACTION PLANNED TO HALT ARMS SUPPLY

WASHINGTON, May 22.—(AP)—House leaders tonight planned quick adoption of the resolution by which President Roosevelt hopes to choke the flames of war in the South American interior by cutting off their fuel supply, arms and ammunition.

Under procedure rarely invoked in convention with an important measure, the resolution, empowering the president to prohibit sales of munitions in this country to agents of Bolivia and Paraguay will be brought up for action tomorrow.

Chairman McReynolds, of the foreign affairs committee, which today unanimously endorsed the measure, will be recognized at the start of the session to ask consideration and adoption by unanimous consent.

One objection will be enough to block action, but house leaders know of no opposition.

Secretary Hull urged approval in a letter to the committee in which he said conversations with other nations looking to concerted action to end hostilities were proceeding satisfactorily but were not yet sufficiently advanced to warrant a conclusive report.

SCENARIO WRITER AND ATLANTA BRIDE ARE HONEYMOONING

LOS ANGELES, May 22.—(AP)—Allan Bushill, of London, and his bride, the former Patricia Mitchell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Gumbly Mitchell, of Atlanta, Palm

As a part of the larger objective, some things have been clear. One is that we should move forward as rapidly as conditions permit in broadening the metallic base of our monetary system and in stabilizing the purchasing and debt-paying power of our money on a more equitable level. Another is that we should not neglect the value of an increased use of silver in improving our monetary system.

Since 1929 that has been obvious. Some measures for making a greater use of silver in the public interest are appropriate for independent action by us. On others, international co-operation should be sought.

Of the former class is that of increasing the proportion of silver in the abundant metallic reserves back of our paper currency. This policy was initiated by the proclamation of December 21, 1933, bringing our current domestic production of silver into the treasury, as well as placing this nation among the first to carry out the agreement on silver which we sought and secured at the London conference. We have since acquired other silver in the interest of stabilization of foreign exchange and the development of a broader metallic base for our currency. We seek to remedy a maladjustment of our currency.

Wider Use. In further aid of this policy, it would be helpful to have legislation broadening the authority for the further acquisition and monetary use of silver.

I, therefore, recommend legislation at the present session declaring it to be the policy of the United States to increase the amount of silver in our monetary stocks with the ultimate objective of having and maintaining one-fourth of their monetary value in silver and three-fourths in gold. The executive authority should be authorized and directed to make the purchases of silver necessary to attain this ultimate objective.

The authority to purchase present accumulations of silver in this country should be limited to purchases at not in excess of 50 cents per ounce.

The executive authority should be enabled, should circumstances require, to take over present surpluses of silver in this country and required for industrial uses on payment of just compensation, and to regulate imports, exports and other dealings in monetary silver.

Heavy Toll Asked. There should be a tax of at least 50 per cent on the profits accruing from dealing in silver.

We can proceed with this program of increasing our store of silver for use as a part of the metallic reserves for our paper currency without seriously disturbing adjustments in world trade. However, because of the great world supply of silver and its use in varying forms by the world's population, concerted action by all nations, or at least a large group of nations, is necessary if a permanent measure of value, including both gold and silver, is eventually to be made a world standard.

To arrive at that point, we must seek every possibility for world agreement, although it may turn out that this nation will ultimately have to take such independent action on this phase of the matter as its interests require.

Worth Seeking. The success of the London conference in consummating an international agreement on silver, which has now been ratified by all the governments concerned, makes such further agreement worth seeking. The ebb and flow of values in almost all parts of the world have created many points of pressure for readjustments of internal and international standards.

At no time since the efforts of this nation to secure international agreement on silver began in 1878 have conditions been more favorable for making progress along this line.

Accordingly, I have begun to confer with some of our neighbors in regard to the use of both silver and gold, preferably on a co-ordinated basis, as a standard of monetary value. Such an agreement would constitute an important step forward toward a monetary unit of value more equitable and stable in its purchasing and debt-paying power.

the report of the review board was a "shameful attack."

"He calls," Nye said, referring to Richberg, "Darrow 'a philosophic anarchist.' Darrow is well able to take care of himself in any controversy with Richberg."

"If Richberg thinks for a minute that Darrow's report was made for the purpose of destroying the NRA, then I want to make this record clear first—that the man who suggested Darrow for the board was none other than Donald Richberg."

Senator Long, democrat, Louisiana, entered the debate briefly when Nye said that Johnson had been an officer in one of the companies operated by Bernard M. Baruch, financier.

"General Johnson told me that he was one of Mr. Baruch's men," Long observed.

No Sympathy. Nye said that "in the attitude shown by the departments of the government there is little or no sympathy left for the small businessman."

"Some of us," the senator said, "looked on the NRA as an institution that was going to afford small industry a better chance for fair play."

"Just what has been done is of course debatable, but I say that under the NRA monopolies and trusts have become entrenched more powerfully than ever before."

"I say that the small industrial operator never has been up against such odds as under the codes adopted by the NRA."

"One wonders whether the NRA was the creation of the same monopolists who were guiding America's economic structure in the days leading up to the new deal."

The Chamber of Commerce president's remarks were made in an address on "What Business Is Thinking" at Brooklyn before the American Association of Advertising Agencies.

Harriman said that "most of us will concede that the major difficulties with which trade and industry are concerned are the outgrowth of misdirected and overzealous competition which, in the long run, benefits nobody."

ROOSEVELT BRINGS NEW SILVER BILL

man, democrat, Nevada, a leader of the silver bloc.

The proposal declares that it shall be the policy of the United States to increase the proportion of silver to gold in the nation's monetary stocks "with the ultimate objective of having and maintaining one-fourth of the monetary value of such stocks in silver."

Chief Points. The secretary of the treasury is "authorized and directed" to buy silver both in the United States and abroad to acquire the 25 per cent reserve.

The president is given permissive power to nationalize, or take over, at a price not to exceed 50 cents an ounce, domestic stocks of silver.

A tax of 50 per cent of the profits on private holdings of domestic stocks after May 15 was provided, but this was later taken from the senate bill.

The secretary of the treasury is "authorized and directed" to issue silver certificates against the purchases.

The president is given full powers to acquire the silver on his own terms.

Objections. Thomas and Borah objected to the declaration of policy on the grounds it did not make silver "primary money."

"Silver is not made money under the terms of this bill any more than greenbacks or copper or nickel is made money," the Oklahoma senator said.

Pittman replied later that he had talked to Mr. Roosevelt after Thomas' speech and that it was the president's view that the measure put silver on the same basis with gold.

Some of the silver senators called a meeting late today for a discussion of the plan and out of that conference came the likelihood that an attempt might be made to amend the measure when it comes up for discussion on the floor.

Pittman during the day proposed several changes in the bill, one of which would eliminate the tax and appropriation features to facilitate procedure. Pittman said the amendments were satisfactory to the administration.

Inflating Power. In addition to aiding the silver states by increasing the price of the metal, the bill provides by inflationary power which the Nevada senator said might result in the issuance of an additional $2,100,000,000 in new currency.

The directions to the secretary of the treasury to issue silver certificates against the bullion purchased here and abroad was regarded as mandatory.

The measure states that the amount of these certificates shall not be less than the cost of "all silver purchased."

The silver senators said it had been agreed that the valuation for the issuance of the certificates should be $1.29 for every ounce of silver bought.

Some treasury experts said their understanding was that if $500,000,000 worth of silver was purchased, for example, that certificates to an equal value only would be issued.

This would limit the expansion possible under the proposal to the funds spent but Senator Adams, democrat, Colorado, and others said they felt certain that the $1.29 valuation would be adopted.

That is the value fixed for the issuance of silver certificates on newly mined metal.

The treasury holds about 6,000,000 ounces of silver, this being approximately 12 per cent of the metallic monetary reserve.

Estimates of the amount necessary to bring the 25-75 ratio with gold are around 1,700,000,000 ounces.

The expansion resulting from buying this huge quantity of the metal would be slightly more than $2,000,000,000 at a $1.29 figure.

Thomas said "we do propose to acquire some silver some time, some place, somehow. I hope this is done but that is the only change from the last law on silver."

Senator Louis, Louisiana, broke in to assert: "In other words we've got an all-day sucker; something to play with."

Presbyterian Faction Will Fight Merger

CLEVELAND, May 22.—(P)—A vigorous attack by a group in the Presbyterian Church of the United States of America was being organized tonight against the acceptance by the general assembly (this week) of the pending merger plan with the United Presbyterian Church of North America.

Led by the Rev. J. Gresham Machen, of Philadelphia, and other fundamentalists, the oppositionists—though unopposed to a merger—say the present plan is unacceptable.

Facsimile of check for $1,000 which the North American Accident Insurance Company paid to Inez Corley, sister and beneficiary of John W. Crawford, through The Atlanta Constitution. Sergeant Crawford was injured in an automobile accident occurring near the Fort McPherson reservation about 8:30 o'clock Saturday, February 10, from which accident he died that night.

United States Army Sergeant John W. Crawford was struck by a street car on February 10, which resulted in death about three hours later at the Post hospital that night. Details of the accident were published in all three Atlanta papers next day. Proof claim was filed by the beneficiary at a later date and a $1,000 check was delivered to Mrs. Inez Corley, sister of Sergeant Crawford, on May 15.

The first thought is that it pays to be a subscriber to The Atlanta Constitution in connection with the accident insurance feature which it offers to its subscribers. Sergeant Crawford was not only a subscriber to the daily and Sunday Constitution, but he took advantage of The Constitution's insurance feature and protected himself against the very accident which unfortunately happened to him.

SCOTTISH RITE HOSPITAL

The price of the insurance was $1. This made an investment of $1 pay his beneficiary $1,000. Had he not been thoughtful enough to take out this insurance in connection with his subscription to The Atlanta Constitution, this $1,000 would not have been available.

No one knows when tragedy will strike. Many, even now, are standing on the brink of the grave without knowing early death or injury is their lot. When Sergeant Crawford started across the street car track on Saturday night, February 10, little did he think what the sad ending would be and how soon. The accident was unfortunate but Mr. Crawford was wise enough and fortunate enough to protect himself.

Every person should take advantage, without fail, of The Constitution's unparalleled reader service feature. Its expense is insignificant. Under its terms the policyholder is protected against death in train, bus, boat, elevator, automobile, pedestrian, burning buildings and other daily hazards to life and limb.

The insurance offered through The Constitution is issued by The North American Accident Insurance Company, of Chicago, Ill. This company, during the last several years, has paid to Constitution subscribers and members of their families over $200,000.

The insurance is offered to subscribers and immediate dependent members of a subscriber's family between the ages of 15 and 69 on the one subscription going into the home at the small registration fee of 20 cents with

All this for the small fee, as stated above—just about 21-2 cents per week, and it is offered to old and new subscribers alike.

In sending application for insurance, the applicant must state name, in full, give age and occupation, and if beneficiary is desired, the full Christian name of beneficiary must be given and relationship of same to the

Russell Asks Funds For Airport Building

WASHINGTON, May 22.—Officials of the federal emergency relief administration were urged today by Senator Richard B. Russell Jr., of Georgia, to allocate funds for the completion of all municipal airports in the state where initial work has already been undertaken.

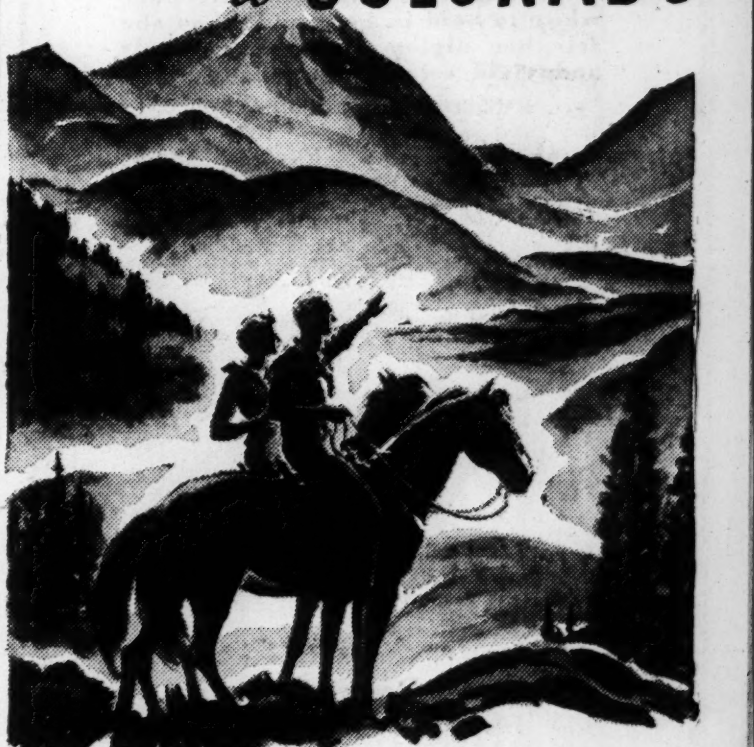

Senator Russell estimated that approximately $150,000 of additional funds would be needed to finish the airports.

A number of Georgia cities, the junior senator said, have received initial allocations for airport improvement work and unless sufficient funds are provided to complete the program the development already started will prove useless.

War in East Is Real Threat, Says Harmon in Talks Here

International Y. M. C. A. Official Asserts That Russian-Japanese Situation Is No Mere Scare.

The possibility of war between Russia and Japan is no mere scare, but looms as a vital problem, in the opinion of Francis S. Harmon, of Mississippi, who, as general secretary of the international committee of the Y. M. C. A. spent Tuesday in Atlanta, where he addressed three audiences and spoke on conditions in Europe.

Mr. Harmon, who has recently returned from a study of German, Russian and other European situations, said Tuesday that Japan is facing internal revolution or war.

"With a budget of two billion yen, one half of which is raised by taxes and the other half by patriotic appeals, in three years more the entire tax income will be required to take care of the national debt."

The Russian problem, Mr. Harmon said, is now one principally of transportation.

"We found the rolling-stock in Russia in poor condition. Many wood-burning engines are still in use. The country is devoting too much time and capital to heavy industry, and this naturally brings about a deplorable shortage in commodities."

Russians Easily Pleased.
Asked whether or not the Russian people are "happy" under the present regime, Mr. Harmon asserted that "happiness" is relative.

"The Russian serfs first knew freedom at about the same time the slaves were freed in America," he said. "It does not take much to satisfy them."

The church, Mr. Harmon said, is doomed in Russia to die with the present older generation.

In reply to a question as to what code of ethics, if any, is offered to supplement the God which has been outlawed politically, he replied that nothing more than national and class loyalty is offered.

"Whatever the evils of communism, however," he said, "the social program in Russia at the present time is certainly worthy of emulation in many respects."

Expressing the opinion that the treatment of criminals, other than political prisoners, is calculated to bring about some measure of reclamation, Mr. Harmon described a penal factory at Bolshevik, where 3,000 criminals of the "garden variety" are cared for.

"There are no guards either in the prison or out," he explained. "The camp is run entirely by the prisoners themselves. They live with their families. They work and are paid a small wage for their labor."

15 Per Cent 'Walk Out.'
Mr. Harmon said that about 15 per cent of these prisoners who are free to leave if they see fit to "walk out."

FRANCIS S. HARMON.

"However," he explained, "after one 'walk-out' they get a real taste of Russian prisons. So most of them prefer to stay, and many, in fact, remain at their work after their terms have been served."

Mr. Harmon commented on the Russian situation following his appearance as luncheon speaker before the Atlanta Rotary Club at the Capital City Club. In his address before the Rotarians, Mr. Harmon called upon his listeners to lend their moral and financial support to the organized movement to bring an end to "unbelievable race persecution" existing in Germany under the Hitler regime.

"Never in recent history has a people needed help as the Jews of Germany need it now," the speaker declared.

Referring to the ironic public utterances by Hitler leaders that in its self-styled "human extinction" of the Jew the order is but "carrying on an anti-Semitic movement started by Jesus Christ," Mr. Harmon recited many instances of persecution, fanatical and almost inconceivable.

Many Suicides in Berlin.
"A leading undertaker in Berlin told us that since March, 1933, one-third of the funerals he has conducted have been the funerals of suicides," the speaker said, outlining the difficulties which are driving the Jews to take their own lives.

"Of the professional classes of Berlin, about one-half were Jews. Teachers, lawyers and doctors are being persecuted for lack of patronage. Lawyers of the Jewish faith, facing a Nazi judge and a Nazi jury, have no chance of success; therefore they have no clients."

"In the schools, a Jewish student is

Federal Men Seizing Many Stills in South

There has been no decrease in moonshine activities, in fact revenue agents are destroying 35 to 40 stills a week in the south, W. K. Bruner, acting investigator in charge of the newly-created alcohol tax unit of the bureau of internal revenue, said Tuesday.

Mr. Bruner is working under the supervision of S. R. Collier, supervisor of the fifth district, at New Orleans. He was here to establish a local office for revenue agents in the new postoffice building.

He said that his department is striking against the illicit manufacture and wholesale distribution of alcohol and whisky rather than the small offenders.

Jew Schmidt—or whatever the name may be—arise and recite, while German boys and girls have it drilled into them day by day that they are of a superior race, unconquered and unconquerable."

Hitlerian Evils Cited.
Among principal evils, under the Hitler rule, Mr. Harmon cited the loss of freedom of speech and of the press, relating one instance in which all German newspapers were ordered, under penalty of confiscation, to carry a front-page news story to the effect that communist literature had been dropped over Berlin from an airplane at a height of 9,000 feet. Samples of the supposed "literature," the speaker said, showed printers' ink that was still wet.

In a spirit of fairness, the speaker presented the Nazi side of the case, citing many of the gains which the German people claim.

"If there are any helpful phases of the Hitler rule," he said, "it is in political, religious and geographical unity. The warring with state boundaries, the consolidation of the political parties under one dictatorship, and the uniting of churches are all claimed as benefits."

Tech Man Is Praised.
In outlining the work of the Y. M. C. A. in striving to bring about international love and to place patriotism on a world-interested and more humanitarian basis, Mr. Harmon paid tribute to E. K. Gaylord, of Georgia Tech, now carrying on the Y. M. C. A.'s good-will work in Wu Chang, China.

"This spirit was exemplified in a Polish camp at Miana Dolna," the speaker said, "where we found three of Danzig and of Poland, and the flags floating side by side—the flags swastika of the Hitler party."

Hitler, with all his present might, is "in for a licking," however, Mr. Harmon said confidently.

"You have heard the name of the Jew who will administer that licking. His name is Martin Luther. The great protestor is protesting even now in the hearts of the German people. He will win in the end."

Guest at Egan Home.
Mr. Harmon was the honor guest Tuesday night at a gathering at the home of Mrs. John J. Egan, widow of the late John J. Egan, who during his lifetime was prominently identified with Y. M. C. A. work in Atlanta.

A representative group of about 100 prominent Atlantans heard Mr. Harmon in an informal address in which he gave a study of "International Communism and International Christianity."

Upon the conclusion of his talk the speaker led in a general discussion and answered many questions propounded to him.

Students and members of the faculty of Emory University heard Mr. Harmon Tuesday morning in an address before the school of religion.

PUBLISHERS PLAN NEWSPRINT STUDY

E. K. Gaylord, of Oklahoma, Elected President of Southern Association.

ASHVILLE, N. C., May 22.—(AP) The NRA invited southern newspaper publishers today to assist in the development of a newsprint industry in the south, and the publishers authorized appointment of a committee to investigate the matter.

The invitation was extended by Major George L. Berry, divisional NRA administrator and president of the International Printing Pressmen and Assistants' Union of North America, and appointment of the committee was authorized upon the motion of E. K. Gaylord, publisher of the Oklahoma City Oklahoman and Times, backed by Clark Howell Sr., editor of The Atlanta Constitution.

Gaylord had been elected president of the Southern Newspaper Publishers' Association shortly before the newsprint discussion arose in the organization's annual convention.

The board of directors is composed of: Alabama—J. E. Chappell, of the Birmingham News and Age-Herald; Arkansas—N. Heiskell, of the Little Rock Gazette.

Florida—Jesse M. Elliott, Jacksonville Times-Union; Georgia—Herbert Porter, Atlanta Georgian; Kentucky—Emanuel Levi, Louisville Courier Journal.

Oklahoma—Clyde E. Muchmore, Ponca City News; South Carolina—A. W. Huckle, Rock Hill Herald; Tennessee—Adolph S. Ochs, Chattanooga Times.

Howell Speaks.
Mr. Howell said Dr. Herty's work had shown newsprint can be manufactured commercially from the southern slash pine, and pointed out the enormous supply of raw material available in millions of acres of the timber between Virginia and Texas. He urged an inquiry into the question.

Mr. Gaylord prefaced his motion for appointment of the committee with the statement that the great importance of the question justified immediate attention from southern publishers.

Mr. Howell suggested that the federal government might aid in the project by financing the equipment of a mill to demonstrate the possibility of commercial development.

Major Berry said, "as in others that will inevitably come to the south as domestic requirements make necessary, there need be no apprehension on the subject of raw materials, cheap power, rail or water transportation, because the south possesses all of these advantages, economical and essential requisites, plus the freedom of climatic conditions that beset and sometimes abridge industrial activities in other sections of North America."

"In the consideration of this tremendously important matter the national administrator invites your cooperation."

50 FAMILIES GIVEN FERA RURAL HELP

2,000 To Be Aided Before Work Is Completed, Says Administrator.

The Federal Emergency Relief Administration has equipped 50 Georgia families with facilities needed for economic rehabilitation and will have cared for 2,000 families before its current rural relief program is completed, Miss Gay B. Shepperson, state administrator, revealed in a report made public Tuesday.

The Shepperson report said that the 50 families have been cared for since last Friday and added that the program was adding momentum to such an extent that she expected a total of 250 families to be working under the new arrangement by the end of this week.

Under the provisions of the program the families are provided with mules, cows, seed, chickens and other needed farm life equipment and given an opportunity to take care of themselves. The families are carefully chosen by the administrator's aides, and their activities are being closely checked by local relief agencies.

It is planned to give the families so helped some work relief later and during the winter months, but the details of this section of the program have not yet been worked out. Under the plan of President Roosevelt it is proposed to erect local industries capable of absorbing local temporary unemployment, such as canneries and other small factories.

"Under our present plan the first 1,000 families to obtain the new rural relief will be those who had once owned their own land but who have lost it through no fault of their own," Miss Shepperson said. The administrator pointed out that the title to stock being furnished these families remains with the federal government and that it is merely lent to the families being aided. The government is buying its farm stock on local markets, whenever possible, the administrator added.

The program provides that the families helped on the rural program shall remain on the general relief rolls until they can take care of themselves entirely, and Miss Shepperson predicted Tuesday that by July 1 the 2,500 Georgia families sharing in the program would be all self-sustaining.

TRADE IMPROVEMENT SEEN BY MANAGERS
A meeting of the branch claim managers of the southeastern district of the American Mutual Liability Insurance Company was held at the Henry Grady hotel Monday. The meeting was presided over by G. Lester Marston, vice president and claim manager, of Boston.

The company completed in 1933, its forty-sixth calendar year of successful operation. The record of new business surpassed any other of the last five years and the company now has the largest number of workmen's compensation and automobile insurance policyholders in its history. The discussion indicated that 1934 held excellent prospects for substantial improvement.

TO STUDY HIGHWAY USAGE.

Representatives of several states in the northwest will gather in Salt Lake City on June 25 for a three-day conference to consider the problem of uniform regulation of buses and trucks—the conference being similar to the one held last fall at Harrisburg, Pa., and which was participated in by a dozen or more eastern states.

The Harrisburg conference was not successful in reaching a definite agreement on uniform regulations, largely because of varying conditions in the states represented, but high hope is felt that the western conference, with the benefit of the Harrisburg discussions, will be more successful.

The coming conference was called by the Utah legislature and has been endorsed in resolutions adopted by several other legislatures and by the western conference of governors. At the request of the Utah legislature the details of the conference are being handled by the American Legislators' Association.

The Utah conference will be broader in scope than the one held at Harrisburg, which was restricted to consideration of motor vehicle weights and dimensions. In addition to these problems, the delegates to the Salt Lake City meeting will discuss licensing, control of carriers, and traffic.

Since it is realized that it is not probable full agreement can be reached on all of these matters, some form of continuing organization will, it is hoped, be authorized by the conference, the duty of which will be to collect and digest information and to submit its findings to the members of the conference.

In attendance upon the conference will be presiding officers of legislatures, motor vehicle and highway commissioners, public utility commissioners and representatives of the United States bureau of public roads and of the office of the federal co-ordinator of transportation.

The need for more uniform handling of highway transportation is stressed in the following extract from the announcement of the forthcoming conference issued by the American Legislators' Association:

There are 49 different sets of bus and truck regulations in this country. No two of them agree completely. Their differences obstruct the full utilization of the possibilities of bus and truck transportation, and lead to border-line motor carrier wars between the states. Dramatic accounts of skirmishes over truck licenses, and of blockades of perishable freight on the state lines, are all too common in the current news. The bitter fight now being waged between the bus and truck interests and the railroads in congress and in state legislatures has aroused every private interest which is even remotely affected. Major economic policies of great national importance are indirectly involved. This non-partisan conference of governmental officials is being convened to consider what are the interests of the public—for after all, there are considerations which transcend the interests of any partisan group.

The regulation of highway transportation has long since ceased to be a state matter. Automobiles of all kinds are pouring by the thousands daily over state lines and the problem of their regulation is one demanding concerted and uniform action if the interests of the public are to be protected.

For that reason such conferences as the one held at Harrisburg and the forthcoming meeting at Salt Lake City are of vital importance and the suggested continuing organization to be effected by the western states can perform an even more vital service in bringing groups of states to a realization

THE WORLD'S WINDOW

BY PIERRE VAN PAASSEN.

Isidor Ignatz Trebitsch Lincoln.
He's in jail again, Trebitsch is. He came from Canada to England and the British put him in the lock-up because that old expulsion-order against him was never revoked. "I only want to preach Buddhism," said Trebitsch. Of no avail. He will be sent back to Canada, and Canada will no doubt push him off to India where he came from recently. I know Trebitsch well. He used to live in France. I sat up with him one night when he expected an answer from the British government to allow him to come into England just long enough to say goodbye to his boy, who was being held for murder that morning at dawn. No answer came. It was a horrible moment when dawn came that day.

The whole nation sorrowed as the reports from France brought the news of America's losses from enemy bullets, but little or no attention is paid to a loss 12 times as large from largely preventable accidents in every section of the country.

The automobile has had a revolutionary effect in bettering business methods and adding enjoyment and ease to life, but at the same time it constitutes the greatest menace to the property, lives and limbs of the public.

When this menace reaches such proportions that it is day by day taking 12 times as great a toll as did the World War, the time has come when the country must awake from its state of apathy.

Many states have successfully met this challenge to the safety of their citizens—men, women and children—through the enactment of new and rigid laws to meet new highway conditions resulting from the marked increase of speed and weight in motor cars.

The present regulatory laws in Georgia were enacted at a time when the average car could be operated at only half the speed now possible, when they were much smaller and lighter than is now the case, and when there were but few highways on which fast driving was possible.

No more serious duty faces the general assembly at its next session than the enactment of new and modern regulations, in line with those which have proved their worth in other states, to protect the public from the threat of reckless and drunken driving.

CHECKING UNWISSE MARRIAGES.

The working of the so-called gin-marriage law in California, under which intention to wed must be filed three days before the issuance of a marriage license, has, in the opinion of the Human Betterment Foundation of Pasadena, convincingly demonstrated the value of an obligatory period of delay, even if brief, in the carrying out of wedding plans.

It is shown that during 1933 a total of 5,555 license applications were filed in San Francisco, but only 5,464 licenses were taken out, and that in Los Angeles there were 18,080 applications and only 17,482 licenses granted. Thus in these two cities alone 989 couples changed their minds about marrying in the short space of three days necessary in which to secure a license.

Investigations by the Human Betterment Foundation reveals that most of the unclaimed licenses represent "proposed freak, fraudulent and runaway marriages, for whose prevention great credit is due to the gin-marriage law."

A considerable lessening in the number of hasty and ill-advised marriages in Georgia has been registered since the enactment of the present law requiring a delay of five days between the time of the issuance of a license and the marriage ceremony, in the case of those under 21 years of age who do not present the consent of either parents or guardians for the proposed wedding.

Undoubtedly the extension of this limitation to those of all ages would present a still greater safeguard against marriages entered into on the spur of the moment and without proper consideration of their chance for permanency.

The Fulton county courts are constantly filled with divorce suits resulting from hurried marriages performed in neighboring states—prominent among them being those contracted by young people of immature age or under the influence of intoxicants.

There can be no valid objection to a delay of so short a time as that called for in the California law, and if a similar statute existed in every state in the Union there would undoubtedly be fewer unwisdom marriages and a consequent decrease in the resort of unhappy couples to the divorce courts.

This country needs more optimists in the money-lending business. Trouble very often results from too much mixing in mixed company.

There will be a war about 1940, says H. G. Wells. Maybe it will be a war to start with.

News Behind the News

By PAUL MALLON.

TRAPS WASHINGTON, May 22.—The way the administration cornered opposition to the NRA is one of the revealing inside yarns of new deal technique. Again President Roosevelt used his decoy system. He has had unusual success trapping his critics with this technique, but never such sensational success as in the current case. It all started months ago, when Senators Borah and Nye were leading the attack on the NRA. They contended that the Johnson-Nye codes were strangling little business. There can be no question but what there was considerable basis for their argument. At any rate, their case drew such marked attention that Mr. Roosevelt called them in. He proposed that a committee be appointed to investigate their charges and that they serve on the committee.

Senator Nye was too foxy to get tied up in a thing like that, but they did consent to the formation of a committee. And Nye, at least, co-operated to the extent of suggesting names for the committee. He is supposed to have named four of the members of the committee.

That was the Darrow committee. SHUDDER There were no two more disappointed men in the world last Monday morning than Senators Borah and Nye when they read the Darrow report. They are good, sensible republican liberals, but not socialists or communists. Their liberalism shines occasionally by contrast with the doctrines of some of the conservatives of their party, but they are not radicals. Yet, here was all their good material against the NRA in the Darrow report completely topped by the recommendation for socialistic remedy. Only the insiders know that portions of the report were rewritten four or five times after he conferred with administration authorities.

WAR KINGS Somewhere along the way of preparing the report, Mr. Darrow had been led into offering the socialistic remedy. Only the insiders know that portions of the report were rewritten four or five times after he conferred with administration authorities.

It was upon one of these rewriting occasions that the socialization theory found a place in the report. It is supposed to have been put in by Mr. Darrow's ghost writer, Charles Edward Russell, with assistance from a member of the committee. At any rate, it gave the administration a perfect response. The boys had been breathing hard and were worried before the report was made public. They thought it might prove very damaging to the new deal. After they saw it, their faces were wreathed in smiles. All they had to say was: "These NRA opponents are socialists and communists."

Some of the sincere opponents of NRA policies were bitter enough to suggest that Darrow should be rewarded by the administration for putting NRA opposition on a socialistic level. RESULTS About all it amounts to, however, is political by-play. The best inside data indicate clearly that the administration is going to put the NRA through the wringer during the next few months. It will adopt the best features of the Darrow report.

Also, if there is sufficient basis to the Borah-Nye charges, as they contend, the matter cannot end with the Darrow report. In fact, it appears the debate has only started.

NO STORY The real story behind republican preparation for the election of a national chairman next month is that there is no story. No inside fighting is discernible. No one seems to have an active candidate. The eastern crowd appears to want to appease the west under all circumstances. The westerners as yet have no candidate of their own.

The boys may possibly agree on Walter Hallahan, well-to-do West Virginian, some one like that, or they may cling to their original idea of letting Vice Chairman Ralph Williams serve until after the congressional elections.

There appears to be rather strong sentiment underneath in favor of choosing some one new, but no one knows who.

UNIQUE There is one, and only one, democrat in the house of representatives running for re-election on a program of full-fledged opposition to the new deal. He is James I. Claiborne, of St. Louis. Claiborne voted against everything except the NRA and has lately turned against the NRA. The answer is he is running in a normally republican district, which, however, now is supposed to include considerable new deal sentiment.

NOTES There seems to be a better chance for oil legislation before adjournment. The experts in that line agree legislation is necessary to save the code, now that the test violation case has gone over until fall in the supreme court.

Ogden Mills is the only republican outside of congress who is attracting any national attention, but liberals within the party are dead set against him for any position.

There is a group of democratic senators in the amen corner of the senate who call themselves "the common people." They organized spontaneously and frequently consult each other on voting. Included in the group of 10 or 12 are Bone, Bulow, Erickson, Long, Pope and Wheeler.

The liberals are telling a fictitious story about a man who had a splendid plan for co-ordinating NRA work. He was called the White House. Mr. Roosevelt thought it was great, but added: "I would have to get an angel to administer it and I am afraid none of them has had enough business experience." (Copyright, 1934, by Paul Mallon.)

The Automobile's Success Began When It Was Priced To Reach the Poor

By Robert Quillen

When the Swedes began their present effort to make beauty commonplace, manufacturers were slow to co-operate. They thought the "common people" would not appreciate beauty. But now the greatest artists in Sweden are designing simple household articles, special schools are developing the talent of gifted artisans, and thousands of craftsmen are producing hand-made articles that find a ready market at home and abroad.

Why do Americans hesitate to profit by Sweden's example? People who have good taste and little money search in vain for beauty within their means.

The land is filled with machine-made junk, most of it an imitation of something better—all of it cheap and gaudy and hideous—and the buyer who is not content with ugliness or do without. There is beauty in plenty for the rich. Nowhere else on earth can fortune's darlings find such a wealth of beautiful gear and trappings for their homes.

But the poor need beauty, also, and they would have it if they could. Perhaps you think there is no lack, but where will you find a window drape, a rug, chair, vase or similar thing that is moderate priced and yet individual, beautiful, distinctive and honestly made by hand?

Many essential things are well made by machinery, and for that let us be grateful. But there is no esthetic joy in possessing an article whose like can be found in every middle-class home in the land. Only a hand-made article, honestly built by a proud craftsman who is free to do his best, has the individuality to win affection.

Among America's idle millions there must be many who could make beautiful things if given the opportunity.

Isn't it possible to provide materials and tools and set them to work? Why waste their talent if they can produce the one commodity that never yet has been too abundant? (Copyright, 1934, by The Constitution.)

INSTALLMENT III.

"Come on, Farrow," he said. "No dice." His companion picked up the tripod and followed him.

"Lovely disposition, yours, Gil," Sandra drew circles in the sand with sandaled toes. "All sweetness and light."

"He was lucky I didn't bash in his head with his little black box," Gil muttered. Then, lightly, "Or did you wait to see the charming young society junior, Miss Sandra Reynal, disporting herself in the picture sections?"

"Not particularly. Still, I suppose it's their job to snap some one. A job's a job. That reminds me—if I don't get home—bye—no I mean it—mother's waiting with a whip—I'll be seeing you places."

Before Gil could protest further Sandra had trotted up the terrace and disappeared around the club house. She was running so rapidly that she all but collided with the tall young man of the recent encounter on the beach.

"Beg your pardon," he said, stepping aside.

"What?" Sandra halted, smiled up into blue eyes that had lost their blaze of anger and were smiling back at her. "I'm sorry about the camera. If you've another concealed about your person, you may have my picture."

"That's mighty decent of you." The tall young man could be confused by kindness. "I'm afraid we're out of luck. You see we weren't expecting to be tripped so neatly."

"It wasn't neat," Sandra shook her head. "Distinctly messy. Better luck next time." She was gone before the tall young man could recover from his surprise or express his gratitude.

Gilbert Akin, noting the proximity of the two girls they had left up the beach, proceeded from the club in a direction opposite from the one he and Sandra had come. He had no intention of being smothered by the perpetual camera in Valerie Reynal's eyes, and he'd be damned if he'd listen to the blithering idiocy of Bubbles Courtland when his head after last night's was being hammered by a thousand little devils.

Sandra, a red and white bath cape flapping about her slim, brown legs, threaded her way through lanes banked high with hedges and flowering shrubs, behind which cottages of weathered shingle, of gleaming white marble, of stone and brick and stucco, rambled into a kind of a glorified summer barracks for the mobilization of a pleasure-mad army. The rationing of this army was simple. A half grapefruit for the women, who fought off a pound with the same desperate unity of purpose with which they would have fought a tiger stealing upon them in a jungle. The men required only an abundance of good liquors to whip up low-ebbed appetites for highly seasoned food. Generally, the army lived on a fare of excitement and pushed forward ruthlessly toward its eternal goal—Change.

Sandra continued her way between the hedges, absorbed in her own unhappy thoughts. As the grooves in the sand lanes became deeper and the hedges lost something of their trim tailored symmetry, she turned in at a trellised gate over which was draped a scarf of wild clematis.

Sandra reached the veranda of a house less pretentious than any she had passed, less pretentious, but there was an air about the white clapboard home with its gabled windows. It seemed to be tilting its nose in fine disdain of its well-groomed neighbors, who, after all, had reared their heads only a few years ago, and had not yet established themselves worthy of being here at all.

In the cool hallway, from which broad white stairs ascended, Sandra paused. After all, she thought, why should she go on? Why should she allow the camera of her mother to interrupt her life?

"Sandra," Mrs. Reynal's voice, sharp and querulous, echoed down the stairwell. "There's no use bolting. I saw you coming up the path. We've remained for bare necessities of life. Practically an entire season's rent to pay and the tradespeople cutting us off. It's unbearable. I can't stand it."

"Then don't, darling," Sandra turned an eager face toward her mother. "There was hope in her smile. Let's go to town. Val and I will find something to do. We could pay off part of the debts every week, every month. The people we owe would wait if they knew we honestly wanted to be square with them. We could take a trinket from some place, nothing splashy, just parking space."

"Sandra!" Mrs. Reynal collapsed into a chair. "Are you mad? You would have my daughters working, living in a miserable hovel when all my life has been a struggle to place them where they belong—and Valerie on the eve of a romance that will lift us all from this horrid nightmare! Poor, dear Valerie. Think of her losing her chance because we are too heartless, too selfish to help."

Sandra shrugged her shoulders, flicked a cigarette ash in the fireplace. She asked: "Why doesn't Val go to the Owl?"

"You know he hates us—Valerie and me. We're Contis. It's different with you. You're a Reynal. 'Don't blame the Owl,' Sandra flared. "You and Val haven't done much to inspire affection. Gimme, gimme, gimme."

Mrs. Reynal began to whimper. "What can we do? Where can we turn?"

"I don't know what you can do. Neither do you—because you've never tried. Only don't try turning to me. I'm through."

"Just this once more, Sandra, help us. Ask your Uncle Ray to see us through this season. It's over in a few weeks. Val is on the eve of marriage. She will never have to worry again. None of us will—ever. Sandra, dear child—for your mother—for Val."

Mrs. Reynal's hands were clasped, imploring. Sandra turned to the window. She lit another cigarette.

"I can't do it," she protested wearily. "I simply can't face the Owl—like that."

"Sandra, I'm so alone, so helpless—just this once—"

A moment's silence. Then the figure at the window rose, pointed a cold glimmering downward at the woman crumpled on the chaise longue.

VIII—Sunflowers and Ghost Flowers.

This summer you might find it interesting to make a test with sunflowers, if you are where you can watch them. There is a dispute as to whether the turn their faces toward the sun as the day goes by, looking east in the morning and west in the afternoon. If you make the test, I shall be glad to have you send me a letter to tell what you have learned.

Some persons fancy that there are ghosts which "haunt" old houses, and imagine that the ghosts are of white color. This helps to explain a common name for certain blossoms of the woods—the so-called "ghost flowers."

Ghost flowers, in general, are waxy-white; and are the plant on which they grow. The plants have no leaves, (at least, no leaves of the ordinary kind), and in large part obtain their food by fastening to roots of other growing things. They reach a height of from four to 12 inches, and the flowers are about one inch long.

Now and then the ghost flower has a reddish tinge, but that is not common. They bloom from June to August; and as the flower goes to seed, it rises from its drooping position and holds its head high—a last salute to the world.

Ghost flowers usually grow in clusters, in thick woods with moist soil. If picked, they turn dark as they dry, and become almost black.

Another name for the ghost flower is "Indian pipe." A glance at the plant—while its bloom which may be taken for the bowl of a pipe—shows the reason for calling it that.

Ghost flowers are fairly common in most woodland parts of North America, and also grow in Japan and southern Asia.

Oil Portrait of Sidney Lanier To Be Given Oglethorpe Saturday

The meeting of the woman's board of Oglethorpe University on Saturday afternoon in Lupton Hall at 4 o'clock will be the occasion for a formal unveiling and presentation to the University of a life-size oil portrait of Sidney Lanier, distinguished alumnus of Oglethorpe, painted by Lanier Bradford Able, young Atlanta artist. The portrait is a gift from the artist and is presented through the woman's board.

Sidney Lanier is shown in the portrait in the pose of the well-known photograph taken of him when he entered Oglethorpe in 1887 at the age of 15. A bust of Lanier, made from the same photograph by Gutzon Borglum, was presented several years ago to Johns Hopkins University. The portrait will make a valuable addition to the art collection of the university, begun several years ago by Mrs. J. M. High and which contains all the authentic original portraits known to exist of James Edward Oglethorpe.

Mrs. Able, who lives at 749 Peachtree street, is a graduate at the Corcoran School of Art and the National School of Fine and Applied Arts. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Bradford, of Lawrenceville, Ga., and is a cousin of the poet, her mother being Miss Katherine Campbell Lanier, of West Point. She is a member of the Association of Georgia Artists, the Southern States Art League and the Studio Club of Atlanta. Recently a picture she entered in the annual exhibit of the Southern States Art League at Memphis, Tenn., was selected as one of a small number of paintings to be sent in a circuit exhibition throughout the south during the next year. Mrs. Able's work also was featured in the latest issue of the national magazine of her sorority, The Upsilon.

The portrait will be unveiled by Stirling Lanier, grandson of the poet, and member of the Oglethorpe faculty, and will be accepted by Dr. Thornwell Jacobs, president of the University.

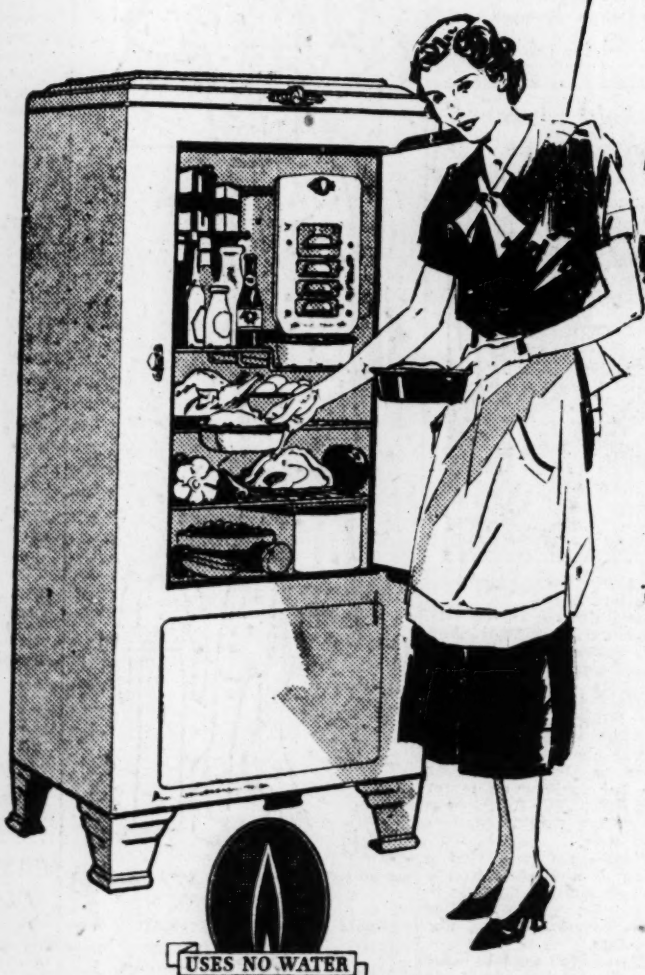

Mrs. William Fisch, president of the woman's board, has invited the distinguished honor guests who will have part in the commencement exercises at the city auditorium on Sunday to be present at the meeting and to be her guest together with the graduating class, members of the faculty and all members of the woman's board at a buffet supper at 6 o'clock on the campus. Dr. Francis G. Pease, of the Mount Wilson observatory, Pasadena, Cal., and one of the greatest astronomers in the world, will give a stereoscopic lecture in the channel of the university following the buffet supper. The Oglethorpe orchestra and glee club under direction of Stirling Lanier, will furnish the music, and during the afternoon a 20-minute one-act play will be presented by the Oglethorpe Players in the auditorium of Lupton Hall.

Hadassah Plans Donors' Luncheon.

"Night Life in Tel-Aviv" is the title chosen by the program committee of the Atlanta senior chapter of Hadassah for its annual donors' luncheon to be held at the Jewish Progressive Club on Tuesday, May 29, at 1:30 o'clock.

Tel-Aviv, meaning spring hill, is an all-Jewish city in Palestine, whose population has grown from 50,000 to 100,000 inhabitants in 20 years. Atlanta Jewish women will be transported into this seething city by a guide, Mrs. Herbert Taylor, who will conduct the night tour. The first stop will be at the Tel-Aviv puppet show. Here Mrs. S. Klotz will take the part of Mrs. Walter Winchell, and Mrs. J. Abel will represent the "impersonating" puppet.

The second place of interest will be the Tel-Aviv Modern Subjects building, where Mrs. Dave Myers and Mrs. Dave Spielberger will present a discussion on the subject, "Resolved: Women will dominate the world in year 2000." The last point of interest for the tourist will be the Tel-Aviv market, where the Tel-Aviv puppet show, "The School of Dancing" will stage this scene. Those taking part are Misses Jacqueline Gullatt, Regina Manetta, Grace Straton, Hilary Strallins, Marc Cumberly, Holene Jacobs and Margie Laramore.

CROWDER HALTS RUSHING TIGERS IN FINAL, 5 TO 2

Eighth-Inning Spurt Nets Senators Three Runs and a Victory.

DETROIT, May 22.—(AP)—Making his third start of the season, Crowder pitched the Washington Senators to a 5-to-2 victory over the Detroit Tigers in the series final today.

Crowder and Bridges went the route for their respective clubs, each allowing 11 hits. Washington, however, crowded four of his hits into the eighth inning, ousted them by a Detroit error and emerged with a three-run advantage to break a tie.

With one out in the eighth, Crowder doubled off the left field and advanced to third as Harris grounded to Owen. Stone then singled over Bridges' head to score Cronin. He advanced to second as Travis singled to left field. Phillips rapped out a single to center and, when Walker booted the ball, both Stone and Travis trotted home.

The Tigers got two on base in the ninth with one out but Goslin hit into a double play to end the rally.

A single by Gehring and a double by Rogers enabled the Tigers to tie the score in the sixth but they lacked the steam to put themselves in the lead.

The Senators took an early lead in the game, combining Meyer's single and Kubel's double for a run in the first and then overcoming a temporary tie in the third when Meyer tripled and Cronin singled to bring him in.

A crowd of 4,000 watched the Senators take the odd game of the series.

BREAK O' DAY!

The "I-Never-Hard-of-Kelly" Club Gets the Bad News!

The "I-Never-Hard-of-Kelly" Club started well at Ponce de Leon park Tuesday afternoon.

It started well but by the seventh inning the faint of heart were leaving the ball park and the activities of the "I-Never-Hard-of-Kelly" Club were nil.

It becomes evident that the Crackers can do no more with Harry Kelly than the coppers with Johnny Dillinger. So far as I am concerned any day the Dental Doctor, J. T. Prothro, nominates Harry Kelly he can have the ball game.

It was a crying shame at that, because a rookie pitcher named Dave Pruitt, was pitching his heart out and his arm off against Kelly.

And the Crackers made enough hits to win the ball game. But this Kelly casts some sort of a spell. The Crackers turned in enough errors to lose any ball game. The outfield dropped them and the infield was very, very frowsy at crucial moments.

When the Kelly curse is on you there is nothing that can be done about it. And so, in the future when the Dental Doctor says Harry Kelly is his choice we will just give him the ball game and go off and play golf or take the family on a picnic or go to a movie.

I am aware of the fact that this is against all the American ideals of fighting on despite the odds and that sort of thing. But after 10 years of watching the Kelly boy I have had enough.

He had started seven and won seven when he walked out on the mound yesterday.

The Crackers, being new to the league, had never heard of Harry Kelly. Harry Taylor actually belted a home run off him in the first inning to put the Crackers out in front. But after that the Kelly curse got going. When it was done Kelly had pitched eight games and won eight for an average of 1.000 per cent.

And, so, phooey on Harry Kelly! You can have him.

DAT OLE DEBBIL, KELLY.

Kelly is bad medicine. The Crackers got 11 hits to 9 for Memphis. And yet Kelly won, going away, as the race track boys would say. He won 10-to-5 in a game which saw his team outbait by the losing nine.

It was a bad day for "Papa" Abbott and Your Uncle Wilbert Robinson, manager and president, respectively. Spencer Abbott's agony was quite plain to see as the two outfield errors and the one infield misplay were recorded.

Mayor James L. Key insulted Your Uncle Wilbert Robinson and left him in the doldrums. These games which you should win and don't are the most difficult of all to lose.

But Dat Ole Debbil Kelly is bad medicine.

It's curious, too. I talked with him just before the game. And he was all good humor, kidding about getting a little fat.

But out there on the mound he's death and destruction.

THE GAMBOLEERS GET EXCITED.

The gamboilers were all excited, charging up to the press box to inquire about this base hit and that and drooling that they had $25 on whether it was a single or a double and all that.

While I don't care, I never quite understood why the gamboilers were permitted to gamble away at the baseball lots. Gambling around baseball parks isn't so good. It leads to a lot of criticism of players who don't come through with a hit or who make an error. Some mug who lost a dollar boos them.

All I wish is they would put a lock on the press box gate so they could not come charging up to the box asking questions. I don't know any of the gamboilers. But the ones who come racing up to ask what's a hit and what's an error are pretty terrible.

THE BIG ADVENTURE.

The Crackers have caught on this year for a couple of reasons.

The first one is they have won enough ball games

ELDER, BISHOP FIRST WINNERS IN ZONE SHOOT

Ohioan, Floridan Lead in Practice Shoot; Registered Events Today.

By Jack Troy.

The boys sat around in wonderment yesterday as Bill Eldred, the 23-year-old, 225-pound Cincinnati shooter, blasted a methodical straight to win the Capitol Gun Club special hundred, one of two events preparatory to the opening of the southern zone shoot at the Capitol Club this morning. Neither event yesterday was registered.

Paul Earle, the shooting star from Starr, S. C., had completed his four rounds with only one miss. And everybody was saying and thinking that 99 was good enough to win in most any league.

Eldred came in late. He arrived with Bullet Joe Heistand, the Hillsboro, Ohio, star. Nobody paid any attention to young Bill Eldred. That is, until he completed the first 50 targets. And then he became the center of attraction. But he didn't notice it. He shouldered his gun, yelped pull, and smacked the targets in the center. It all seemed so very easy.

REMARKABLE. He is a remarkable shooter. Two years comprise his experience at the traps. Yet he is a picture of studied rhythm. The gun goes up to his shoulder in a short motion. And his body does not move as he swings with his arms on the target. There is only a slight shoulder motion.

Someone remarked that he seemed as steady and durable as an army mule. And that is pretty close to the facts in the case.

Ned Bishop, the Florida all-around champion, from Bradenton, won in the C. G. C. special handicap. He broke 48x50 from the 22-yard line. Bishop is one of the most popular of the country's shooters. And an excellent sportsman.

Captain M. E. Hicks led the pros in the Capitol Gun Club special hundred, breaking 90 along with Paul Earle. Sam Sharman, of Salt Lake City, vice president of the Amateur Trap-Shooting Association, broke 98 to become the third ranking amateur in the 100-target event.

Other scores in this event included Jack Tway, 97; H. N. Alford, 96; Ned Bishop, 94; Charles Tway, 94; C. T. Jackson, 90; Benson Freeman, 79; Mrs. Jackson, 69, and Jack Gray, 65. Among the pros Arturo Casademiro broke 97, Tom Cassells broke 96, and Walter Huff, of Macon, the oldest pro, broke 92.

HEISTAND SECOND.

Bullet Joe Heistand, one of the country's top-ranking shooters, ranked second to Ned Bishop in the handicap. Shooting from the 25-yard line, he shattered 47. Jack Tway broke 46 from the 22-yard line. Charles Tway smashed 44 from the 22-yard line. Bishop cracked 43 from the 25-yard line along with C. T. Jackson, shooting from the 22. Sam Sharman broke 41 from the 24-yard line, and Mrs. Jackson broke 33 from the 18-yard line. Casademiro and Hicks, the likeable pros, broke 40 and 35, respectively, from the 25-yard line.

It was an ideal day for shooting. Off the distances from the hilltop traps there were painted trees and shrubbery. It was the valley of the moon come to life. And up above, leading the fluffy-like clouds, a paper moon was suspended in the sky.

It was all too magic to be real. And yet it must have been. Because every once in a while man-made machines darted along the strips of paved roads, which were ribbon-like in the distance. Far away the skyscrapers of Atlanta were white sentinels against the blue sky.

A bright sun, following an earlier rain, made the scene complete. It was all very magic.

COFFEE ARRIVES.

R. C. (Right Careful) Coffey, president of the U. S. T. S., arrived last night. Other late arrivals included Tom Deen, of Jacksonville, Fla.; Ralph and Rock Jenkins, of Orleans, La.; K. (Tank Hole) Lee, of Birmingham.

Mrs. Donald McClain, of Atlanta, one of the finest lady shots in the country, will shoot the entire southern zone program. Mrs. McClain practiced yesterday.

Mrs. C. T. Jackson, who beat Mrs. McClain in one target in the Grand American handicap last year, had trouble finding the angle yesterday, but will certainly return to form once she is accustomed to the new setting. The southern zone program begins today in earnest. This morning, at 9 o'clock, firing will begin with the introductory hundred. The southern zone championship of 200 targets will follow.

ROYALL NOT COMING.

J. B. Royall, Florida state champion, of Tallahassee, wired yesterday that he will not be able to attend because of the illness of his daughter, who is in a Jacksonville hospital. Royall won a leg on the Harry E. Johnson memorial trophy in the Florida state shoot. The trophy will be in the competition here. But a shooter has to win it three times for permanent possession.

A prominent participant yesterday was J. M. McComb, a lieutenant commander in the United States navy. McComb will participate in today's program. Now with the U. S. S. Selma, he was formerly an officer with the Macon.

In doubles practice yesterday Benson Freeman, Atlanta star, led with 22x24, serving notice he is ready for anything in doubles.

ONE FOR THE BOOK.

On June 16, 1930, the Giants defeated the Cubs, 5 to 0. Every one of the nine Giant runs was a home run.

Arlett Is Traded For Dave Barbee

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., May 22.—(AP)—The Birmingham baseball club tonight announced the trading of Russell (Burr) Arlett, a struggling outfielder, to the Minneapolis of the American association, for Dave Barbee, outfielder, and George Murray, pitcher.

President W. A. West said tonight that the club would join the Barbees temporarily until Barbee and Murray report.

Fred Neider, former Atlanta catcher, will join the Barbees in Nashville tomorrow, replacing Red Whitney.

Mr. and Mrs. C. T. A practice shoot opened the program Tuesday.

HELEN JACOBS 'Through As Player,' HEADS DRIVE

PARIS, May 22.—(AP)—The United States Women's tennis team tomorrow starts a European campaign that will carry it through the Wimbledon cup matches against England and the Wimbledon championships.

All five members swing into action in the French hard court tennis championships.

None of Captain Helen Jacobs, the team has been tuning up on the slow French courts for several days and tonight all were reported well prepared for their open matches.

Miss Jacobs, a semi-finalist last year, was accorded top seeded honors with the English girl, Peggy Scriven, defending titleholder. Miss Scriven is at the top of the draw and Miss Jacobs at the bottom.

In the lower half with the American champion is her teammate, Carolyn Babcock against Mary De-ville. Miss Babcock is a former Wimbledon champion.

Miss Jacobs is expected to meet Mme. Mathieu, her nemesis, in the semi-finals.

Miss Palfrey is slated for an early collision with Miss Scriven while Miss Marble and Cilli Assuem, the former German titleholder, are not far apart in the draw.

Miss Scriven is expected to meet Miss Jacobs in the first round. Miss Jacobs is drawn against the Englishwoman, Mrs. A. M. York. Miss Marble is slated against Suzanne Barberier. Miss Babcock against Daisy Speranza and Miss Palfrey against the former French player, Jacqueline Horner.

DOUBLES. Miss Jacobs will pair with Miss Babcock in doubles but the other three are choosing foreign partners.

Jane Crawford, of Australia, and Fred Perry, of England, head the seeded list in the men's division where the former American collegians, Wilmer Hines and Henry Culley are entered.

Culley now is attending Cambridge University while Hines is taking a post college course in travel.

Hines is in the same half of the draw with Crawford and Culley in with Perry.

Sinet drew the Frenchman, Rene Smet, as a first-round opponent. Culley is paired against the new German Davis cup player, H. Tischer.

Center Hill Holds Mat Show Tonight

The Center Hill open air arena, located at Hutch's place, on Bankhead highway, will hold its regular Wednesday night wrestling matches tonight. The same card that was staged last Wednesday will be scheduled for tonight with the exception of Bulldog Gus, who has been called out to fight in the main event of the evening. Fred Neider, former Atlanta catcher, will join the Barbees in Nashville tomorrow, replacing Red Whitney.

KELLY WINNER WHEN ATLANTA KICKS IT AWAY

Pruitt Looks Good, But Gets Bad Support by Fielders.

By Jimmy Jones.

Harry Kelly, the gentleman farmer of Vandale, Ark., coasted to his eighth straight victory yesterday and it would have been his ninth if the Crackers had not. They made three errors in the clutch that gave the Chickasaws four unearned runs and virtually the ball game also, which they won, 10 to 5, to square the series.

The Vandale Viking himself admitted that he didn't have his stuff and that he was a little lucky. The Crackers touched him for 11 hits. Harry Taylor and Prince Oana tagged his fast ball for home runs in the first and ninth, respectively, and Byrne James, the lightest hitter of the Crackers, touched him for three hits. But still the Vandale Viking made it through.

"I just got by today," Kelly said in the clubhouse after the game. But it was a win for the stocky right-hander just the same. He figures he will win 20 games this year and should, at the rate he is going.

DIDN'T HAVE TO BE.

Kelly wasn't at his best and didn't have to be to beat the Crackers yesterday. They beat themselves with a lot of bad fielding behind Dave Pruitt, the big, broad-shouldered right-hander, who really pitched excellent ball, giving the Chicks but three hits in six innings.

Young Duck McKee, who has been hitting in sensational fashion, had his first bad at-feld. He let Chapman's single go through his legs for a two-base error in the fourth. Chapman later scored. In the same inning, he dropped Redfern's lofty fly ball to right which let Chapman score. But for these two misplays, young Pruitt, who came to the Crackers on the recommendation of Jimmy Laverne, old Chicago Cubs pitcher, possibly would have stuck in there and won his first start.

TARZAN AND THE CITY OF GOLD No. 51

N-51

"You probably would not let me get any satisfaction from killing you anyway," said Nemone, after a pause, as Tarzan's expression did not change under the Queen's threat. "Everyone is afraid of you," he replied; "you are interested in me because I am not."

"Let us stop quarreling. Nemone forgives you. Now answer my question. Are you a 'lion man' in your own country?" "I am a noble by accident of birth, if that is what you mean," replied the ape-man. "Ah," exclaimed Nemone, "that simplifies matters."

She did not explain her meaning, nor did Tarzan understand nor inquire the implication of her words. Nemone extended a soft, warm hand that trembled just a little and laid it on his. "I am going to give you your freedom," she said, "but on one condition."

"And what is that?" asked the ape-man. "That you remain here, that you do not try to leave Onthar—or me." Her voice was eager and just a little husky. Tarzan remained silent. He would not promise, and so he did not speak, but his mind raced furiously!

Roosevelt Is Master of Nation Texas Editor Claims After Survey

AMARILLO, Texas, May 22.—(AP) Gene Howe, Amarillo editor, said today a survey he had just completed revealed President Roosevelt as "having complete mastery of the nation," in contrast with the 50 men James W. Gerard said were running the United States in 1930.

Howe, son of Ed Howe, famous Kansas editor, and a controversialist who has tilted with Mary Garden and other notables, picked 49 of the president's chief advisers "who are consulted at his pleasure rather than their leisure." He called at least half of them "yes" men, and said "there is not one of the remainder who can speak for the president without first consulting him."

Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt heads the list of advisers which Howe, with the aid of newspapermen in Washington, New York, Chicago and other eastern cities, selected after a month's survey. Howe made one trip through the state to obtain first-hand information.

Gerard's list was made up principally of bankers, financiers and big industrialists. Howe found that these classes are not represented among Roosevelt's advisers.

"The closest approach to a financier," he said, "is Bernard Baruch. Then there is Jesse Jones, a spectacular real estate operator. Jones, who is a natural leader and tremendously ambitious, is reasonably close to Roosevelt, but the president 'keeps everyone at a respectful distance.' Intellectual Valet.

"Louis McHenry Howe is his intellectual valet; Jim Farley his political strategist, whose advice is seldom taken except regarding party organization. Vice President Garner doesn't speak or understand the language of most of those who surround the president, but is loyal.

"Hugh Johnson is a bogey man who over did it. He takes orders from the president. The thunder is his own, the lightning Roosevelt's.

Rez Tugwell is a socialite, a brilliant conversationalist, a dull thinker. He has become publicity goat of the administration, and likes it. Salvoes hurled at him are intended for the president. He is headed out."

Howe said he found the "brain trust" not very brainy; and Roosevelt's cabinet "mediocre."

"One or two of the cabinet members simply answer roll call," he said. "They don't know what it is all about. Cordell Hull, Henry Wallace and Harold Ickes stand out in the cabinet. They have a deeper and more profound understanding of the ecoomic status of this country than any three men in the inner circle.

Might Be President.

"If Frances Perkins were a man she might be a president herself.

Howe places her fourth on the list of advisers.

"Never in the history of the United States, not excepting the administrations of George Washington and Woodrow Wilson, has one individual so completely dominated this country as does Roosevelt," Howe continued. "He stands next to Mussolini and Lenin, and above Stalin and Hitler in having complete mastery of a nation."

"He seeks to travel not to the left nor to the right, but straight to the hearts of the people. If he had been the war president, he likely would have out-Wilsoned Wilson.

"Roosevelt's outstanding bid for lasting greatness is his willingness to change his mind. He has absorbed much and learned much in the year he has been president. But he must hear the roars of an ungrateful and un-understanding mob, and stand hunched, to prove that he has the iron in his soul that most of the American people think he has."

Howe's list follows: the first 25 names in the order of their importance: Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, Louis McHenry Howe, secretary to the president; Henry F. Wallace, secretary of agriculture; Frances L. Perkins, secretary of labor; Cordell Hull, secretary of state; Harold F. Ickes, secretary of interior; Dr. Felix Frank-

Tiny Planet Located Among Jupiter's Moons
SAN JOSE, Cal., May 22.—(AP) The moving body discovered in the heavens a week ago by Dr. R. H. Jeffers, of the Lick Observatory staff, while taking photographs of Jupiter's eighth moon, probably is a tiny planet and not a satellite of Jupiter, Dr. Robert G. Aitken, director of the observatory, reported today.

"It is practically settled," Dr. Aitken said, "that the tiny object is a planet revolving about the sun, just as the earth does, and is not a satellite of Jupiter. Because its orbit is close to that of Jupiter we at first supposed it moved with that planet, but computations by Dr. Jeffers and Dr. A. B. Wyse have practically settled its status."

The planet is faint and of minor importance, the astronomer said.

ARMY ASKS BIDS ON NINETY PLANES OF "ATTACK" TYPE

WASHINGTON, May 22.—(AP)—The Army speeded its air program today by requesting bids for 90 attack planes.

Under the original three-year program only 30 attack planes were to be asked at this time. But Assistant Secretary of War Woodring requested the general staff to approve plans for 60 planes for the 1935 program.

The 30 planes will be purchased with $7,500,000 in PWA funds and the others from congressional appropriations for the air corps of 1935.

Requests for bids for more than 200 bombers, pursuit, observation and cargo craft will be issued before July 1.

Minimum requirements for the 90 attack planes, carrying a useful load, are specified as follows:

High speed of 200 miles per hour; operating speed of 170 miles per hour; six hours' endurance at operating speed; ceiling of 15,000 feet. The planes also must be able to take off (or land) over a 50-foot obstacle within 2,400 feet.

SOUTH CAROLINA MAN SHOT TO DEATH BY WIFE

The death weapon was a pistol. Mrs. Britton remained at her home under technical arrest. Coroner J. S. Cain called an inquest for tomorrow. The Britton family long has been prominent in this section. J. B. Britton, a brother of the slain man, is a member of the statehouse of representatives from Sumter county.

NRA SANCTIONS MILL HOUR SLASH

Textile Plants To Reduce by 25 Per Cent During 12 Weeks.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—(AP)—The cotton textile industry today was authorized by NRA to curtail production 25 per cent for 12 weeks beginning June 4 on condition that the reduction be made without shutdowns of a week or more.

The order, issued at the request of the industry, required not only that the curtailment be done by cutting hours per day or days per week, but also that weekly reports showing the state of supply and demand be furnished.

The rayon weaving industry, under the cotton code, was given a four-week curtailment on dress goods mills and an eight-week curtailment on staple goods.

Complete exemption was given one-shift mills and provision was made for full-time work on government contracts, and a selected list of products: Tire yards, or fabrics for rubber tires; tobacco cloths, woven cotton blankets; upholstery and drapery fabrics; jacquard woven bedspreads; merino yarns; narrow fabrics; paper dryer felt; millinery foundations; machinery for spinning, reeling or skeining thread also is exempt.

The rayon curtailment was conditional on continuance of a like curtailment in silk mills, under a separate code.

The curtailment was authorized, officials said, because unsold stocks mounted from 250,330,000 yards on February 24, to 332,362,000 yards on April 28. Unfilled orders dropped from 1,137,384,000 to 756,087,000, while during March and April mills produced "larger quantities of cloth than during any similar period since the code went into effect."

It was estimated that half-time production, or 40 hours a week, against the 80 hours in two-shifts allowed by the code, would equal the prospective summer demand.

3 Killed As Huge Tank Plunges Five Stories

CHICAGO, May 22.—(AP)—Three men were known dead and firemen sighted what they believed were the bodies of two others in the debris after a 40,000 gallon water tank plunged from the roof of a seven-story building down to the second floor late today.

Its moorings loosened presumably by last night's high winds, the wooden tank burst through the roof of the seven-story Oakley building at West Austin avenue and North La Salle street, one mile north of the Loop, and forced its way down to the second floor.

The dead: George Fischer, 61, a commercial artist in the building on a business visit.

Fred Schieble, 35, and Kenneth Healey, employees of an engraving firm.

Police searched the debris for other possible casualties while eight persons were treated for severe injuries.

TECH HIGH SCHOOL TO GIVE DIPLOMAS TO CLASS OF 215

A class of 215 seniors will receive diplomas from Tech High school at graduation exercises to be held in the city auditorium at 8 o'clock next Tuesday night, W. O. Cheney, principal of the institution, announced. Willis A. Sutton, superintendent of the Atlanta schools, will preside, and Ira B. Harrelson, president of the board of education, will present the diplomas.

Henry Sutton, winner of the oration contest this year, will be class orator, and Clark Hudson, with the highest scholastic standing, 95.9 per cent, is valedictorian. The Tech High orchestra and glee club and the school band will give musical numbers.

The class this year is about the usual number, Professor Cheney said, and it is believed that 12 of the seniors will receive gold T's for making the honor roll 75 per cent of the time they were in school. The general public is invited to attend the graduation exercises.

[RECENT OLD GOLD CONVERT]

"Is Old Gold's throat-ease due to Milder Tobaccos?"

Dear Miss Rogers:—

A mild cigarette is not necessarily easy on the throat. Like a mild-mannered person, it may be flat, uninteresting and even irritating.

"Smoothness" is mildness with character. A smooth cigarette, like a smooth wine, has everything . . . taste-appeal, mellowness and purity.

Old Gold tobacco is not only mild . . . it has that combination of rich flavor and throat-ease which Nature grows only in her finest queen-leaf Turkish and domestic tobacco. It never taxes the throat or bores the taste.

Sincerely,

P. LORILLARD COMPANY, INC.
ESTABLISHED 1760

P. S.—Boiled down, the fact is this, Miss Rogers: No better tobacco grows than is used in Old Gold. And it's pure. That's why Old Golds are easy on the THROAT and NERVES.
